Laidlaw Environmental Services Inc., is the North American leader in providing safe, responsible industrial waste services to large and small businesses, communities, universities and government. The company serves the continent from 100 locations in 26 states, seven Canadian provinces and Mexico. We apply various treatment and disposal technologies to waste streams, including incineration, solvent distillation and recycling, fuels blending, chemical neutralization and stabilization, and secure chemical landfill.

Our total commitment is to customer service. Our proven track record in solving tough environmental problems and our excellent compliance history have earned us the confidence and trust of industries throughout New England and New York state. No company is too small or too large to receive personal, professional attention from Laidlaw Environmental Services. We have been providing customers with the proper pathways for chemical waste disposal for more than 10 years from our Treatment, Storage, and Disposal Facility service center in North Andover, MA.

Laidlaw Environmental Services (North East), Inc., is a fully licensed "Part B" facility. We are proud that it is considered by customers and regulators to be a model of safety and compliance. Wastes are transported on our own "leak-proof" trucks to Laidlaw Environmental Services (North East), where we barcode and sample every incoming drum.
